"BUT IT'S WRITTEN IN THE (EUROPEAN UNION) CHARTER" (OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS)"

And, in practice, our "public officials and bodies" in the Republic of Ireland couldn't care less apparently!!

"European citizens are being reminded that the European Union Charter of Fundamental Rights, which came into force in 2009, is not just legally binding on EU member states: the guardians of those rights are also obliged to stick to the principles."

The following twelve -- recent past, and present -- Republic of Ireland public officials, who as I see it, are, or recently have been, foremost "guardians of these rights" for lengthy periods of time, do not appear to me to have ever felt in any way obliged (whatsoever!!) to stick to certain of these core principles, as is evidenced by the way they appear, for example, to have decided to completely ignore my several efforts to communicate with them, regarding Article 47, via the emails and registered letters of mine appearing in the twelve Google listings provided just below; and, similarly with all of the many other -- i.e. hundreds -- of public officials in and around the Government of the Republic of Ireland, together with the entire membership of the legal profession of the Republic of Ireland:

CHARTER OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS OF THE EUROPEAN UNION

The European Parliament, the Council and the Commission solemnly proclaim the following text as the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union.

CHARTER OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS OF THE EUROPEAN UNION

The peoples of Europe, in creating an ever closer union among them, are resolved to share a peaceful future based on common values.

*Conscious of its spiritual and moral heritage, the Union is founded on the indivisible, universal values of human dignity, freedom, equality and solidarity; it is based on the principles of democracy and the rule of law. It places the individual at the heart of its activities, by establishing the citizenship of the Union and by creating an area of freedom, security and justice.

The Union contributes to the preservation and to the development of these common values while respecting the diversity of the cultures and traditions of the peoples of Europe as well as the national identities of the Member States and the organisation of their public authorities at national, regional and local levels; it seeks to promote balanced and sustainable development and ensures free movement of persons, services, goods and capital, and the freedom of establishment.

To this end, it is necessary to strengthen the protection of fundamental rights in the light of changes in society, social progress and scientific and technological developments by making those rights more visible in a Charter.

This Charter reaffirms, with due regard for the powers and tasks of the Union and for the principle of subsidiarity, the rights as they result, in particular, from the constitutional traditions and international obligations common to the Member States, the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, the Social Charters adopted by the Union and by the Council of Europe and the case-law of the Court of Justice of the European Union and of the European Court of Human Rights. In this context the Charter will be interpreted by the courts of the Union and the Member States with due regard to the explanations prepared under the authority of the Praesidium of the Convention which drafted the Charter and updated under the responsibility of the Praesidium of the European Convention.

Enjoyment of these rights entails responsibilities and duties with regard to other persons, to the human community and to future generations.

The Union therefore recognises the rights, freedoms and principles set out hereafter.

'Although Dr McMonagle never said so, my suspicion is that she was -- in reality -- almost certainly referring to "unresolved legal problems" connected with the "wrong doings" of "public officials and bodies" of the kind Dr Michael McCavert GP has referred to in his October 28th 2005 "To Whom It May Concern" referred to above. Additional information relating to this ban can be found in an email dated May 26th 2016 that I sent to Northern Ireland First Minister Arlene Foster LL.B, MLA, a Gmail PDF copy of which can be viewed at the following www location: <http://www.humanrightsireland.com/FirstMinisterArleneFosterMLA/26May2016/Email.pdf> '
